Contents

Notes on contributors .......................................................... xii

Foreword
By Robin Cohen ................................................................. xv

Introduction
By Nando Sigona, Alan Gamlen, Giulia Liberatore and Hélène Neveu Kringlebach .............................................. xvii

Metaphors, concepts, genealogies and images ................................ 1

Seeds, roots, rhizomes and epiphytes: botany and diaspora
By Robin Cohen ................................................................. 2

The loss and the link: a short history of the long-term word ‘diaspora’
By Stéphane Dufoix ............................................................ 8

Network
By Sondra L. Hausner .......................................................... 12

The sinews of empire in the world of modern warfare
By Vron Ware ................................................................. 14

Points of origin: a visual and narrative journey
By Alpha Abebe and Jyotiana Saha ........................................ 19

Spheres of diaspora engagement
By Nicholas Van Hear ........................................................ 32
Belonging: imagining and remaking home 36

Cultures of translation: East London, diaspora space and an imagined cosmopolitan tradition
By Ben Gidley 37

Living with difference locally, comparing transnationally: conviviality in Catalonia à la Casamance
By Tilmann Heil 41

Making a Kurdish identity in diaspora: Kurdish migrants in Sweden
By Barzoo Eliassi 45

African migrants at home in Britain: diasporas, belonging and identity
By Naluwembe Binaisa 50

Dimensions and dynamics of the Gambian diaspora in the digital age
By Sylvia Chant 54

Ambitious cultural polyglots: Kenyan Pentecostals in London
By Leslie Fesenmyer 66

Dreaming of the mountain, longing for the sea, living with floating roots: diasporic ‘return’ migration in post-Soviet Armenia
By Nanor Karageozian 69

Diaspora youth and British young men of colour
By Linda McDowell, Esther Rootham and Abby Hardgrove 74

Associational profusion and multiple belonging: diaspora Nepalis in the UK
By David N. Gellner 78

A diaspora-for-others: Hadramis in the world
By Iain Walker 83

Spaces, networks and practices 87

Creolization, diaspora and carnival: living with diversity in the past and present
By Olivia Sheringham 88

Malian traders in the Senegalese capital
By Gunvor Jónsson 92

The Indigent Moslems Burial Fund
By Nazneen Ahmed 96

Strangers and diasporas in Lusaka
By Oliver Bakewell 100

The ‘diasporas’ of Little Mogadishu
By Neil Carrier 104

Fitting in by being yourself: Avenues Unlimited and youth work in the East End c. 1960s–2000s
By Eve Colpus 108

Diasporic devotions and bodies in motion
By Alana Harris 112

Divergences and convergences between diaspora and home: the Somaliland diaspora in the UK
By Giulia Liberatore 116

Architectural associations: memory, modernity and the construction of community in East London
By Jane Garnett 122

Parallel lives and scattered families: European immigration rules and transnational family practices between Africa and Europe
By Hélène Neveu Kringelbach 131
Transnational school-based networks: diaspora, mobilities, and belonging
By Mette Louise Berg 136

New ICT and mobility in Africa
By Mirjam de Bruijn 140

Life in refuge: across Rwanda’s camps and Uganda’s settlements
By Patrycja Stys 146

Roma, statelessness and Yugo-nostalgia
By Nando Sigona 160

Governance and mobilisation: old and new actors 165

The rise of diaspora institutions
By Alan Gamlen 166

The animators: how diasporas mobilise to contest authoritarian states
By Alexander Betts and William Jones 172

Comparing and theorising state–diaspora relations
By Alexandra Délano and Alan Gamlen 176

Disaggregating diasporas as actors
By Carolin Fischer 180

From native informant to diasporic activist: the gendered politics of empire
By Sunera Thobani 185

'Know your diaspora!': knowledge production and governing capacity in the context of Latvian diaspora politics
By Dace Dzenovska 190

The stateless speak back: Palestinian narratives of home(land)
By Elena Fiddian-Qasmiyeh 194

Diaspora as anti-politics: the case of Rwanda
By William Jones 199

The Jewish diaspora and Israel: problems of a relationship since the Gaza wars
By William Safran 202

Stalemate in the Armenian genocide debate: the role of identity in Turkish diasporic political engagement
By Cameron Thibos 207

Shifting forms of diaspora engagement among the Sri Lankan Tamil diaspora
By Nicholas Van Hear and Giulia Liberatore 211

Weapons of knowledge construction: the Afghan-American diaspora and counterinsurgency in Afghanistan
By Morwari Zafar 217

Endnotes 222

References 225